

Fire in the Tropics

Research Workshop

LEVERHULME

Centre for Wildfires,
Environment and Society

1-4pm, 23rd January 2020

Room 136, Department of Geography, Queen's Building,
Royal Holloway University of London, TW20 0EX

The aims of this workshop are to explore gaps and opportunities within Fire in the Tropics research, to foster innovative, interdisciplinary and collaborative research amongst Centre staff and students, and to build a sense of community amongst Centre staff and students.

Agenda

12:30-1pm Arrivals and Refreshments

1pm Welcome

1.05-2.20 Research Presentations with Q&A

1:05 Emma Tebbs (KCL)

1:20 Daniele Colombaroli (RHUL)

1:35 Alex Arnall (Reading)

1:50 Kayla de Freitas (RHUL)

2:05 Mark Grosvenor/Vissia Didin (KCL)

2:20 – 2:30 Break and Refreshments

2:30 - 4pm – Ideas Café Discussions

Outputs: workshop report and blog article for our website

Tweet Live #FireinTropicsWksp @centrewildfires

Travel details to Royal Holloway: <https://www.venue.royalholloway.ac.uk/getting-here/>

Campus map:

<https://intranet.royalholloway.ac.uk/aboutus/documents/pdf/locationmap/campusplan.pdf>